Editorial appeals and terms BetOnRed Opinie

The editorial configuration of 19 November 2026 provides for accepting letters in Polish and English. The working window for handling correspondence is Monday–Friday, 09:00–17:00 Europe/Warsaw, with a working goal of giving a first response within three working days of registering the inquiry. Letters can be sent at any time to jakub.wisniewski1@gmail.com. For corrections, URL of the material, an exact quote, a description of the discrepancy and the basis are useful. For a complaint to the publisher, the subject line "Roszczenie redakcyjne" is used; for a data request, "Dane osobowe". A separate contractual or legal contact of the operator applies to operator services.

The editorial site's rules cover reading, quoting, private feedback, corrections, and processing of form data. For quoting, the editorial configuration provides for a short excerpt with the author's name and the address of the material. Reuse of the full text, graphics, or photos is subject to the terms of the respective rights holder. The profession and experience of Jakub Wiśniewski are disclosed via the author's passport. The profile uses the name, specialization, and contact. Information about the portrait, verified external page, diplomas, and bibliography of previous publications is approved as part of the author profile.

In the editorial configuration, requests for access, correction, and deletion of one's own data, as well as objections to their processing, are accepted by email with the subject "Dane osobowe". Working records are available to the editorial role. The operational role receives technical logs to the extent needed for site operation. Processing of the email copy belongs to the email service. Categories and timeframes are given in the "Processing of editorial requests" section.
